

Our Ultimate Reality Newsletter

25 September 2011

Dear Reader, I do hope that you have enjoyed a Joyful, Healthy and Abundant week.

The "Quickening" continues to "Quicken" and expanding its scope exponentially, as the whole world, to many, seems to be going "crazy" and no longer "makes sense".

Never, in the recorded history of Humanity, have there been so many diverse, linked and convergent "events" taking place, on a global scale, as we are seeing today.

This is most assuredly no coincidence. In fact we may expect this Experience to escalate exponentially as we approach the Singularity, the "pivotal" or "tipping" point for the Human Race, during this current cycle of Human Mind and Consciousness.

There is abundant evidence all over the planet of the conclusion of previous such cycles between 10,000 and 11,000 years ago, and again 20,000 to 22,000 years ago, with, for example, considerable and undeniable remains of nuclear explosions, flooding events, on a global scale, sudden geophysical pole shifts and much more.

Of course the beginning of each new cycle of Human Mind and Consciousness, as we are rapidly approaching, is really an opportunity for Humanity to start over once again with a "clean slate" with a further 10,000 to 11,000 years to take a different course with a different outcome which will result in either Evolution of Mind and Consciousness, or to "clear the board" of extremes and start over again as before.

Of course, although the objective is the Evolution and "elevation" of the Human Race as a Whole, during each of these cycles many Individual Humans will achieve what we call "Enlightenment" and thus Evolve to the next level of Consciousness. Each achievement of Personal Enlightenment also Elevates the Mind and Consciousness of the Whole, since, of course, "we" are All One, beyond the material illusions.

In this week's Newsletter, rather than discuss a specific subject, I will review the main convergent events taking place today, setting the scene for the Grand Finale.

If you have received this Newsletter from someone who cares about you, and wish to receive it, at no cost every Sunday, you can join by adding your details here:

Global Events Shaping Human Destiny

Well Dear Reader, there are so many events taking place both on Earth and in the Cosmos, with new situations, discoveries and events appearing almost every day, that it is difficult to know where to even begin.

Before I do begin however, I would like to reiterate my caveat of previous weeks.

Until very recently this Newsletter has focused almost entirely upon matters of the Mind and Spirit, as well as Metaphysics and Quantum Physics, with the emphasis being firmly on Spiritual Evolution through Self Realisation, Awakening and therefore Enlightenment leading to Service to Others Before Self and Divine Love of All.

However, the Spiritual "dimension" of Humans is only one aspect of our Triune Nature - Body, Mind and Spirit - which are One and Inseparable. We cannot selectively focus on one aspect of our Triune Nature without causing imbalance.

The physical Universe, Earth in our case, is very unique compared to All That Is as a Whole, providing us with unique opportunities to interact, just as a child in a sandbox plays happily with his or her toys and perhaps even break them. Earth as a whole is the sandbox of humanity, with all the necessary toys for Joy and "development".

We therefore need to be not only aware of events, and opportunities unfolding around us, but also to understand their meaning, and place them in a proper context.

Events taking place on Earth today are pivotal to every single Human on Earth.

It is absolutely crucial however to maintain a balanced Mind and never be fearful.

Dear Reader - we are so very Blessed to be here on Earth during these Transitional times.

Of course this is no "coincidence". Our Higher Self has chosen this for each of us for a specific purpose, unique to each individual, and clearly a huge and Blessed Opportunity for the Personality, we experience as "you and me", of our Individuality, Higher Self" to graduate to Higher Vibratory Spheres of Life and Reality which are Glorious beyond the comprehension of most. This is as it should be. Our actions on Earth must be based upon direct Experience, not the promise of a great reward.

So please accept everything I am about to discuss as an Opportunity for Awareness, an Opportunity to Experience, and above all an Opportunity to Spiritually Evolve.

Embrace all unfolding around us in Knowledge, Gratitude and Love.

Alright then, with that said, let us begin our brief tour of World events.

Comet Elenin

Well here is an event that has been the focal point for an almost unprecedented and extraordinary level of interest, as well as hype, speculation, misinformation and fear-mongering on the Internet, and especially on Youtube.

Now, many comets visit our inner solar system every month, and therefore Elenin should be nothing special. However, there have been hundreds if not thousands of claims that Elenin is a "brown dwarf star", a "neutron star", an "alien ship" or "armada of alien ships", a remotely controlled alien ship", the "cause of massive earthquake activity on alignment", and a "biblical harbinger". And these are to mention but a few. Obviously many of these claims are the product of an overactive imagination.

That said, I have tracked and viewed Comet Elenin for quite some time, and it seems to me that there are several unusual features, which may or may not be natural.

It is an undisputable fact that every time Elenin aligns with Earth, even at a considerable distance, there have been earthquakes and other seismic activity.

Several weeks ago, Russian scientists stated that Comet Elenin "appears to be under intelligent control". I have also personally observed non-comet-like behaviour.

But we should never jump to conclusions. The Human Race only knows a very tiny fraction of "cosmic bodies and events", and every event is a learning experience.

So what can we say about Comet Elenin with reasonable certainty?

Comet Elenin has, or had, a nucleus of around up to 4 kilometres across, is blue-green in colour, due to the fact that the gaseous material surrounding it, the "coma", is composed largely of the gas Hydrogen Cyanide, which, although deadly to Humans and animals, would never reach the atmosphere of Earth and is no threat.

Comet Elenin was struck by a CME from the Sun - a Coronal Mass Ejection - which appeared to strip away most of the coma resulting a dimming in visible magnitude.

I tracked Elenin on the NASA Stereo-B orbital telescope until early September, when Elenin was definitely still very visible, as indeed it was on telescope images. After that date the comet moved beyond the line of sight of Stereo-B and telescopes.

Right now Elenin should be visible on the SOHO LASCO C2 orbital telescope, which I have been monitoring very closely, but as of the time of writing is not in fact visible.

A couple of weeks ago Comet Elenin reached Perihelion, which means its closest point to the Sun, which of course passed without event.

The next major event for Comet Elenin is between tomorrow, Monday 26 September and Tuesday when the comet passes directly between the Sun and Earth.

In October, Comet Elenin, if still, if still intact, will reach its closest proximity to Earth.

Now to me the most interesting aspect of Comet Elenin is actually not the comet itself, but the unprecedented way in which so many people, most not previously interested in astronomy, have reacted to this one, specific, mostly unremarkable comet. Why Comet Elenin as opposed to any one of hundreds of other comets, some much larger, and will transit much closer to Earth than Comet Elenin will?

I am aware of various ideas that people have, but will not mention them specifically because they are theories and ideas with no basis or evidence whatsoever.

Such ideas are fuelled by perhaps coincidental events such as President Obama arriving at Denver Airport on 27 September, as Elenin transits between the Sun and Earth. What is significant about Denver Airport? Well It conceals, with plenty of compelling evidence, a large "underground facility", some workers claiming to be the "size of a small city", and almost certainly the primary "underground control and command centre" for the president and government in the event of a major crisis.

We do not know if this event has significance, and if so why.

A most interesting possibility is that Comet Elenin turns out to be the "Blue Star Katchina" of the Hopi Prophecies, the "harbinger" and "final notification" for the arrival of the "Red Katchina", the "Purifier" which will "reset" Earth once again.

I believe this is more than a prophecy. The Hopi have been the guardians of the sacred knowledge for the entire Native American continent for 22,000 years - two cycles of Human Consciousness - and is therefore firmly based in Experience.

Is Comet Elenin, which is blue in colour, the Blue Star Katchina? We will soon know, and you can be sure Dear Reader that I will keep you informed as appropriate.

Solar Activity

As we approach the end of this immutable Cycle of Human Consciousness and the beginning of the next, the activity of our Sun is increasing very dramatically indeed.

Now, the Sun alone, crucial though it surely is for Life on Earth, cannot, in and of itself, bring about Spiritual Evolution. The Sun is however one of the convergent factors that could "level the playing field" if humanity does not achieve its objectives.

As I write this Newsletter, the Sun has very recently become extremely active, with two very large, and one massive Sunspot appearing. Sunspot 1302 is really huge, and has been already responsible for projecting X Class Flares, CME's, the most powerful, one of which will give Earth a glancing blow tomorrow, 26 September.

If the Sunspot projected an "X Class CME " of this magnitude directly at Earth, the outcome would almost certainly be chaotic at many levels, but probably not cataclysmic, at least not directly. Life could continue.

The outcome of such an event however is largely a matter of speculation based upon previous, similar events, rather than absolute certainty.

The last known similar event on this potential scale was the so called "Carrington Event" of 1859, which virtually destroyed the telegraphic communications across the World, with sparks and flames flying out of telegraph wires, wooden pylons igniting, telegraph operators being blown backwards, and telegraph paper catching fire.

At this time, the Northern and Southern Lights, Aurora, converged to be visible over the whole planet, rather than the usual far northern and southern hemispheres.

If such an event should happen today, it would most likely destroy many, if not most satellites in orbit, would likely take out the electricity grid, possibly for decades, and would likely take out all telecommunication systems including the Internet, again, possibly for many years due to the damage that would result from such an event.

I regard the possibility of an event such as this in the near future to be relatively low, but not out of the question. We should however be aware of the possibility at least.

That said, we should never live in fear of such an event, All that "happens" is for a reason, is Perfect, and should be gratefully received as a Divine Opportunity.

Global Monetary Situation

For several weeks now I have noted that the "global monetary system" is on the verge of total collapse. Today I have to advise you that we are much nearer than ever to this event taking place, with almost zero possibility that it will not take place.

What we are seeing is no accident or "unforeseen event" or "act of God".

A small group of people, often erroneously referred to as the "global elite", have consciously and proactively embarked upon this course, by design, most recently starting in the year 1913 with the creation of the privately owned "Federal Reserve".

Although over the last 98 years, the "globalists" have funnelled countless Trillions of Dollars at the expense of everyone else, by now will be in the form of Gold bullion, this is not about money, but rather power and control through money and debt.

This is a very large and complex subject that would require hundreds or even thousands of pages to discuss adequately, but suffice it to say that these people use the US Dollar as the current "reserve currency", to literally print trillions of Dollars out of "thin air" which is then used for "bailouts" etc but while taking assets in return.

In this way they are creating a centralised system of a type that we need not go in to now, but suffice it to say would, by design, result in a one-world fascist dictatorship, a one-world currency which they control, a world in which everyone would be a slave.

We can see the beginnings of this in Europe. The "Euro" never stood a chance of success, as we can see now, and is on the verge of collapse. Already it is being suggested that the only way forward is a centralised government for the whole of Europe, one for the Americas and one for Asia, which would then merge to become a one-world government soon thereafter. This is their objective - it is not money.

As it is, the governments of the US, UK and Europe are totally controlled by the "global elite" and have zero interest in the wellbeing of the people who they are supposed to represent, which is becoming increasingly apparent through austerity.

These "governments" control the militaries, police and other enforcement agencies, of which there are increasingly more, and which are increasingly oppressive.

So where then are we today?

The stock markets are on the verge of collapse and there is nothing the Federal Reserve or other central banks can really do about. Interest rates are near zero, they cannot print more money without hyperinflation, and above all they can do nothing about the fact that, through their own actions, people have less and less money to spend, even if they still have a job at all. So the game is over bar the shouting.

As this scenario unfolds, we will see increasing riots across the world, possible revolution attempts, and possibly a state of martial law in the US and Europe.

For now however, the banks, under the control of the "global elite", are "papering over the cracks" and using the mainstream media, which they also completely control, to reassure the "general public", and place a "positive spin" on these events.

There is absolutely no question whatsoever that the stock markets and Gold market in particular are being completely manipulated. This is because the financial markets generally are a very recognised "barometer" of global sentiment.

The financial markets are controlled and manipulated in various ways.

The "front banks" behind these events, e.g. Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan, Merrill Lynch, have "computer server farms" co-located in the major stock exchanges, which execute billions of "algorithmic trades" every day without any human decision making whatsoever. The objective is to use "volatility" to what is called "scalp" a few cents from each trade, but which adds up to millions of Dollars in profits each day.

If the volatility is not high enough, then these computers create the volatility by generating buy or sell orders for millions of shares over a very short time..

Bernie Madoff, recently imprisoned for operating a "Ponzi Scheme", a "pyramid scheme" which is treated as a crime, said during a recent telephone interview:

"When I first entered Wall Street I quickly learned two things. One, that the entire game is rigged, and two, that the global monetary system is one big Ponzi scheme".

And of course he is absolutely correct, and we are seeing the evidence of this now.

Recently however, these "server farms" have been used to drive up the price of stocks when they should be going down. Most trades are by computers, not people.

This gives the illusion that all is well in the markets, that the world "economy" is healthy and in order, to prevent panic selling thereby simply to buy more time.

The most extraordinary recent manipulation however has been in the Gold market.

Gold, for thousands of years, has been accepted as the benchmark and measure of the health of financial and socio-economic systems and tension around the world.

So the US government, in the last few weeks, through the "front banks", notably JP Morgan, have been using the derivatives - futures, options etc - markets to relentlessly hammer the price of Gold, to give the illusion that all is well in the world.

This is fairly simply accomplished because one futures contract for example controls 100 ounces of Gold. So it does not take the selling of many futures contracts to push down the price of Gold and give the impression that people are selling Gold.

As the price of Gold goes down, the electronic sell side "stop losses" of genuine Gold traders, designed to minimise losses when the price moves against them, are triggered, then causing the reverse transaction to be triggered, which is to sell Gold contracts, which, in turn further depresses the price, in turn taking out further "stop losses". So there is a "waterfall effect" caused by the original manipulation, which in turn causes millions of Dollars in losses to genuine and honest Gold traders.

In addition, the commodities exchanges on which Gold is traded, such as the CME, keep raising the "margin requirements" for Gold derivatives. A "margin requirement" is basically the "down payment" required, per contract, to control 100 ounces of Gold. The latest margin increase took place after the market closed on Friday.

These margin increases mean that genuine traders can no longer afford the extra margin requirement on their open contracts, leaving them no choice but to close the contract which is the same as selling Gold, thus further depressing the price.

But these trades are all only theoretical paper only transactions, not representative of the genuine underlying demand for physical Gold, which is now absolutely immense.

The banks are also caught in a trap because there is a further long-term scam which involves "loaning out" Gold to other banks, who then sell the Gold or loan it on to other banks and so on. So the central banks most likely only actually have, in their vaults, 1% of the Gold they have on their books, without any hope of getting it back.

Many sources say that the Gold repository in the USA - Fort Knox - is empty. We cannot know this for sure, because the US government gave all their Gold in Fort Knox to the Federal Reserve, who cannot be audited by anyone for any reason.

Anyway, suffice it to say that the US and UK governments cannot manipulate the price of Gold down ad-infinitum, and neither do they need to. They are simply buying time while they execute the next stage in their collective ongoing global agenda.

If it were not for this manipulation, the price of Gold would be in excess of $2000 per ounce by now. Due to the pressure in the system, when Gold does overcome this fake manipulation,, the price will surely skyrocket as real market forces take over.

As I mentioned before, Gold is the one and only currency to own in view of current and future events, and, with Silver, the only real way to preserve value and wealth.

In conclusion - the global financial system is on the very verge of collapse and governments are using every means available to conceal the fact to avoid panic.

When the contagion does set in, there will likely be a "run on the banks", and because only 1% of money exists as money - the 99% is debt - the banks will run out of money, close their doors and switch off ATM's the same day most likely.

As this Newsletter is already longer than usual, I will not discuss other associated convergent events in detail today, but will do so in future Newsletters as appropriate.

In short though, aside from Libya, which is a total disaster, which was in fact how it was planned from the beginning, and has become another Iraq and Afghanistan for the same imperially motivated reasons, a forthcoming crisis is unfolding at the United Nations.

After decades of oppression and aggression by Israel against Palestine, whose country Israel forcibly annexed, Palestine is once again, to be recognised as a country in its own right, with a seat at the United Nations.

Most of the world is very happy about this, except for the USA and UK. Obama has stated that he intends to veto the acceptance of Palestine as a country and member of the United Nations. Had the US not applied its veto, the UK would have done.

There are three "centres of power" of the "global elite" - the USA, UK and Israel, which is why the CIA, MI6 and Mossad work so closely in covert operations.

The US veto has no tangible basis other than to support Israeli agendas, which in turn is part of the global agenda.

This situation has the potential to turn very ugly. We will see in due course.

Now again, and in conclusion, and I must stress this most emphatically.

I do not share this with you that you may become fearful. If I thought, for a moment, that Newsletter Readers would react in this way, I assure you that I would never share anything further in relation to these "Earthly" events and possibilities.

I am doing so because I am inspired to do so, subject to the above caveats.

I am fully aware of the considerations in speaking of these matters, but even more aware of the consequences of not doing so. There is a fine line to be walked.

In the past, global events have unfolded at extended intervals and are reasonably well defined, even if they are not all they may seem, and therefore plenty of opportunity to assess the significance of these events in your own Experience.

Now however, as we approach the Singularity, the pivotal Moment for this current Great, Blessed Cycle of Human Consciousness, there are so many escalating and convergent events, all with the potential to influence the final outcome, that it is very difficult for most to even keep up with this onslaught, much less understand it.

If you do not have the opportunity to know about and understand, at least at some level, then events will overtake you very quickly, and the opportunity will be lost.

My concern is that due to the control and censorship of the global media, for the most part, these events will either be concealed or distorted.

We are All Blessed with Divine Freewill and Freedom of Choice, which contribute to our overall Experience and ultimately Spiritual Evolution, but only if you are aware of, and understand the Nature of, and Opportunities presented by those choices.

The forces of darkness know this very well, but it does not serve their agenda. It is therefore for myself, and others like me to at least help you through the maze and confusion that will enable you to achieve your Reason For Being here on Earth at this time, and most importantly that you may help others to do the same.

Now I never suggest what you should "do" for two reasons.

Firstly I cannot influence your Divine Freewill.

Secondly we should "do" very little except for prepare Mentally and Spiritually.

The "forces" we have discussed in this Newsletter are all taking place at a "material" level, in other words at the physical Vibratory Frequency of the five senses.

Let me assure you Dear Reader that no such physical force or event can exert any influence whatsoever over any Human Being unless a person allows it either implicitly, or out of some emotion, notably fear and anxiety.

We Are Expressions Of Source.

Source Energy and Love Flows Through Each Of Us.

We Are Infinitely Perfect.

We Are Infinitely Powerful.

We Are And Have Infinite Potential.

We Are Eternal.

We Are Infinite Expressions Of Divine Love.

Now is the Moment To Realise and Express Our Divine Potential and Being.

When We Focus Within, With Joy and Love In Our Heart, Soul and Spirit, Then We Are Invincible. No-Thing or event of the physical world can influence us.

All We Can Ever Need Can Be Found Within, With Source.

Mind, Consciousness and Spirit Is Our Ultimate Reality.

No matter what is "happening" in the "outer world", we can always find Infinite Joy, Abundance and Health Within.

All we need ever do is to disconnect our Mind and physical senses from the physical world, relax, in a place of solitude, quiet the Mind and Focus Within, With Source.

You may consider this to be "meditation" if you wish - the label matters not.

Our Ultimate Reality is to Live every Moment in this way, permanently connected to Inner Self and to Source, while Expressing Source from Within.

This is our True Power and Glory and where Humanity must Be to finally Evolve.

But before this must come realisation as to the True Nature of the outer, physical world, that it might be placed in a proper context and perspective, as an Blessed Opportunity From Source to Evolve Through Experience, Expressing Divine Love, and thereby Unconditionally Serving Others before self.

We Should Be In This Physical World But Never Of This Physical World.

And I will conclude with my closing words of last week:

People must realise that they do not have to conform to the expectations of family, friends and society, and that It Is Fine To Simply Be, and to Express Yourself.

People must realise that we are not here to serve ourselves.

We Are Here To Serve Others By Showing Others The Way and The Path.

There Is No "Us" and "Them" - We Are All One.

These Truths, Dear Reader, should be Self Evident, and dwell Within Us All, but have become subsumed through Humanity allowing itself to be enslaved and controlled by Banks, Religions and Governments through money, debt and protectionism.

Stop watching "news" or at least the "mainstream news". All mainstream media, such as Fox, CNN, MSNBC, BBC etc are all controlled by the same "global elite" who control money, debt and governments to enslave humanity - all Mind Control. One of few TV news channels presenting a true picture is RT America and RT International.

Everyone should do their own Open-Minded, independent research on the Internet and Trust Your Own Inner Guidance and Feelings - they will never let you down.

Above All - Please Do Your Utmost, In Any Way You Can, To Awaken Others.

This "System", Contrived by Very Few Humans, is Unsustainable - It Must Go.

We Are In The End Game - The Moment Of Awakening and Evolution Is Now.

Sincerely, you can help enormously by sending this Newsletter to everyone you know, and encouraging them to Subscribe for themselves if they feel like so doing.

It is by Sharing The Joy with others that the Great Awakening progresses, but know this Dear Reader, just One Soul on this planet can mean the difference between Humanity finally claiming its Collective Glory and next Glorious Phase of Evolution, or commencing another 10,000 to 11,000 year cycle to do it all over again.

But Everyone Must Participate. There is no "leaving it to others" now.

Humanity Has The Divine Potential To Collectively Evolve This Time Around.

<http://www.ourultimatereality.com/>

As you know, there is no charge or obligation whatsoever. I have dedicated every Sunday since 2005 to publishing this Newsletter, read by many thousands of people around the World, as my contribution towards achieving that Critical Mass of Awakening which has now become so crucial as we approach the Pivotal Singularity.

And So It Is.

Until next Sunday, I wish you a most Joyful, Healthy, Abundant week.

Brought to You In Divine Love, Light and Service,

Adrian.
